Team Goes to Red Wing to Battle Fast High Machine

Score Less Than 30-0, Will Be Feather in Opponents Hat is Opinion.

SCORE SENT TO HALL

Red Wing high school is the next opponent of the Normal team and when the two teams meet on Saturday a lively contest is predicted. Our team will leave Saturday morning over the Milwaukee road.

Red Wing unlike Wabasha has a reputation of having an unusually strong team. In fact in all of the Red Wing's athletics their teams have blasted other high school hopes of championships time and again. In basketball they won the state championship and made a strong bid for the championship of the northwest at the tournament held last winter.

Our men are expressing no unusual amount of self confidence but of course they are confident that the Normal will win. To beat the Red Wing high school by a decisive score would indeed show the fine quality of our team. But to allow them to hold us to less than thirty points would be a feather in Red Wing's hat. This is the opinion of practically all of the Normal followers in and out of school. The Pow-Wow will have the score telephoned to Winona immediately after the game and it will be announced during supper at Morey Hall.

STARTLING SENSATION HAS OCCURED, SECRET IS FINALLY DIVULGED

Maurice Howard has discovered his affinity at last!!!! To say the least, we were surprised and as yet her name is a secret. What seems to have attracted him is her abundance of light hair, efficiency in light house-keeping, and her promising ability as a publicity agent. Our hopes, as editors, are that she'll do as much for him, for surely he is deserving. Would a sacrifice of three fingers still be asking too much Maurice? Women like, we're curious! All right girls, three guesses, who is she? ? ? ?

'FIGHTING IRISHMAN' WILL PILOT NORMAL FOOTBALL MACHINE

Coach T. O. Dillon called the last year's "W" men together before the Wabasha game last Saturday for the election of a captain. Morrison and Joe Cassidy were nominated. The election resulted in a tie. Coach T. O. Dillon then gave the entire squad the privilege to vote for captain. Cassidy was the unanimous choice defeating Morrison 13 to 4.

Joe is going to have a real job but we all know that he'll be able to hold it down the same way he does his "End" position. Capt. Cassidy has had plenty of experience in football and there is no reason why he can't finish the season with a championship team.

DEMONSTRATE YOUR PATRIOTISM

What are you going to do Saturday? Of course it will be impossible for us to witness the football game that is to be played by our boys, but what do you think of the idea of having every student go down to the station and holding an outdoor mass meeting, when the team leaves. We might as well get into the habit of doing this because it is the closest we can come to actually being on the field and cheering for our team.

We are all patriotic of course when it comes to supporting our football eleven. But what good is that patriotism, if we only feel it? What good is any kind of patriotism without a public demonstration? We as students must demonstrate the patriotism we feel.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS SHOULD BE ELECTED AFTER CHRISTMAS

It has always been a custom at the Normal school for the Junior-class to organize and elect its officers in the fall of each year. This policy has always proven to be a good one. The greatest disadvantage is that too much risk is taken. The students are not acquainted with each other sufficiently to know which of their number would be suited for the office. This makes difficulty later in the year. It seems altogether practical, that if the class were too have a temporary organization consisting of a

DOWN RIVER NORMAL HAS 400 ATTENDANCE, 164 IN PHYSICAL ED.

Word received from the La Crosse State Normal School, which opened some two weeks after Winona, states that the attendance is a little over 400. The largest group at La Crosse is now the one in Physical Education, numbering 164; the next largest group is the junior college group numbering 80; 36 students are preparing for high school teaching in a third year curriculum; 26 in a two year program have chosen grammar grades, 10 in a one year course are preparing for rural work; while 69 are preparing to teach in the primary grades.

ANOTHER RECEPTION FOR NORMALITES AT CHURCH

Approximately twenty-five Normal girls were entertained Friday evening by the members of the Congo Club at an informal reception. This is the third reception of the year for Normalites.

Mr. Sanders Talks on Lesson Assignments; Teaches in La Crosse

Greetings from the La Crosse Normal for the Winona Normal constituted the foreword to a lecture on Lesson Assignment by Mr. Sanders of the down river school.

"Lesson assignment is one of the three divisions into which writers of education separate school work," he said.

A good assignment should be definite both in subject matter and in the treatment of subject matter, should be reasonable in length yet calling forth the students best abilities, should participate and surmount difficulties, should arouse increasing interest from day to day, should be a unit, should take into account individual differences, and should develop right habits of study. The speaker carefully explained each point as he brought it forth.

The talk was a very helpful one and was heartily enjoyed by everyone as the applause which it received indicated.

MISS TRITES DOING INSTITUTE WORK AT WORTHINGTON

Miss Flora Trites, teacher of Rural Education, who is assisting the Department of Education in institute work during the fall term, is this week at Worthington, the County seat of Nokles county.

Miss Gladys Brown, Charlotte Corbett, Mildred Harder, Francis Williams, Hollis Hopp of Plainview motored to Winona last Friday, returning home that evening accompanied by Miss Mable Brown.

NORMALITES SWAMP WABASHA HIGH SCHOOL IN SLOW GAME HERE

Smash, crash, bang!!! Touch-down! That is about all that can be said for the first football game of the season. Playing a full quarter less than a "regular" game (fifteen whole minutes of play less) our boys romped away with a 72 to 0 game against the Wabasha High School football team. They were a plucky, scrappy bunch of boys as was seen when one of them actually had the nerve to take a swing at "Kuba." That takes nerve! and they surely had it.

Incidentally, as all of the "big town sport sheet dopesters" say, Coach Dillon is on the lookout for a truly reliable timekeeper, as it is hinted that the timekeeper was not all to the good, particularly the last quarter which was cut five minutes, which would have meant about twelve or eighteen extra points. Keep this dark thought!!!

NORMALS COP LAURELS IN RACE FOR KRATZ CUP

Just before the afternoon session on Monday the Training School assembled in the gymnasium to celebrate their victory over the four competing city schools in the Annual Relay race. Two years ago the Normal school won first place, last year they won second place, and this year again have won first place. When the children all assembled two of the junior high school girls led the school in a number of yells. Miss Hootman directed the community songs. The team then lined up in the order in which they ran the race and each boy told what he did in winning the cup. Mr. Maxwell then told how the Normal school used to fail to win in former days before the school had a gymnasium and a physical director. He said they usually came in at the end, while now they often win. Mr. Dillon in speaking on the matter stated that one chief reason why the boys won was because of their gymnasium work and particularly the playing of soccer foot ball. After singing a few patriotic songs the meeting was adjourned.

STUDENTS RESPOND IN LARGE NUMBERS TO CLUB'S APPEAL

Thirty-seven students applied for admission into the newly formed Press Club and all of them secured memberships. At the meeting held last Monday evening in the art room, the entire club was organized. A constitution was adopted and officers were elected.

Intense interest was manifested by all those who attended the meeting. The business was transacted in rapid form. Motions were made quickly and decisions were rendered with no hesitation. The persons attending signed their names to the pledge, and thereby assumed a full membership in the club.

The following officers were elected: President—Vivian Bahe. Vice-President—Katherine Kennedy. Secretary-Treasurer—Arthur Strand. The present editor and business manager of the Pow-Wow were elected by the members of the club.

'Ol Man Jinks Claims Normal Grid Warrior

"Babe" Prosser

On account of an injury received last week, "Babe" Prosser may not be in the Purple and White line-up for the rest of the season. "Babe's" ability in football was shown throughout his athletic career in High School. Big things were expected of him this fall at Normal, but the 'ol Man Jinks nailed him before he had time to start performing.

Coach T. O. Dillon has sent away for a shoulder brace. This may protect "Babe's" injury sufficiently to allow him to get in the big games during the latter part of the season.

SIX SIX-FOOTERS AT CEYLON HIGH WOULD BE MATCH FOR TEAM

Says Last Year's Student Who Teaches There.

Many interesting letters have been received by Miss Smith from girls in her last year's music classes. Among those more recently received is one from Myrtle Giere, and one from Evelyn Eldred. Miss Giere is teaching in Ceylon, Minnesota, and Miss Eldred in Osakis. Both have charge of high school and grade music.

According to their communications, both are entirely pleased with their work, which, although keeping them very busy, is made interesting by the "new experiences" as it is put by Miss Eldred. Both girls in addition to the regular teaching work, have charge of orchestras, glee clubs and other musical organizations.

Miss Geire's letter in part follows: "They are just wild about Basketball here. They claim the Girls had the championship of Southern Minnesota last year. The H. S. people, boys and girls all seem to be much older for their age here. We have six-foot boys in H. S. I don't believe I'd be afraid to put them up to our Normal team. "My love to you—and the girls. I'm at their service for any information they may desire about the life of a green music teacher."

Osakis, the town in which Miss Eldred is situated approximately one hundred miles or more north and west of Minneapolis, on the shores of a large lake by the same name. Concerning her work Miss Eldred says: "I am combining the grades in four parts, first and second grades, third and fourth, and so on. I teach these each four periods a week. I am getting along well, I think, so far in the grades, and think I shall enjoy my work. I have a lovely building to work in and that means a great deal."

STONE AGE STUFF.

Making allowances for B. L. T. The young man followed her with his eyes as she stepped lightly down the hall to her next class. He regarded her askance, noticing among other things, her beautiful auburn hair, done up in the latest fashion. It was truly a sight to behold. A more perfect marcelle never adorned the head of either a man or woman. Her fair tresses which glistened in the sunlight that was coming through the window seemed as if they ought to tip the poor girl's head backward, they looked so ponderous. Such a seeming wealth of hair was an object of great marvel to this observing person who stood dumbfounded after she had passed.

Buzz-z-z-z-z went the bell. The girl ran. The boy gasped. He stood bewildered. He winked his eyes again and again. His eyes bulged out for the second time. "Yes it was," he said to himself. He picked up the object that had dropped from the girl's head just as the tardy bell rang. He shook his head. His thoughts were muddled until gradually he was able to gain control of his vocal organs. "A sponge!" he whispered. "What next?"

NORMAL BOARD TO INSPECT BUILDINGS OF SISTER NORMAL

While the quarterly meeting of the Board on October 12 will be held at Moorhead, President Torrance of the Normal Board and State Commissioner McConnell have accepted for the Board the invitation of the resident director and president of the Bemidji State Normal School to visit Bemidji while enroute to Moorhead. This will be the first inspection on the part of the Board of the new main building and the new dormitory at Bemidji. This youngest school is already urging additional buildings to care for the rapidly increasing numbers who will enroll in the near future.

Bemidji has what is probably the finest location of all the normal schools. Its campus covers forty acres of beautiful wooded ground, located on the edge of the beautiful Lake Bemidji. The Mississippi river practically takes its rise from this lake, the Lake Itaska and the smaller lakes which claim the source are some thirty or forty miles distant.

POINT SYSTEM ADOPTED, TO PREVENT OVER WORK

During the assembly hour Tuesday, Miss Richards announced to the students, the organization and the plan for administration of the "point system," which, though new to this school, has long been in use in the large colleges and universities throughout the country. By this system, two points is equal one hour each week, and no student may undertake during a term, work aggregating more than twenty points. The administration is to be in the hands of a student-faculty committee.

By this system no student will be able to carry on enough outside activities to make his class work a failure, and no one will be able to claim ill health as a result of too heavy work. However, the flexibility of the system permits a student of more than ordinary ability, to undertake more than twenty points each term, providing he can show to the administration committee a satisfactory scholarship and health record.

The administration committee is to be composed of nine members, three from the junior and senior classes each, to be appointed by the class presidents, and three faculty members, the chairmen of the social, scholarship and administration committees.

The highest number of points apportioned to any office is twenty to the business manager and editor-in-chief of the annual, for the spring term and twenty to the editor-in-chief of the Pow-Wow in all three terms.

THE SQUIRRELS NEST

IKEY! IKEY!
Miss Richards (in literature class)—Will someone please give the rhyme scheme of this line?
Bricky—Abie, Abie! (a-b! a-b.)

Mr. Stalcup—Has any one looked at the Literary Digest for this week? (One student raises hand).

Mr. Stalcup—That's good that some one did. What were the important topics?

Student—I don't know. I only looked at the cover.

There is a young lady called Mabel. That she's peevish is surely no fable. Someone blew in her "horn." Now she treats him with scorn. And could choke him to death with a cable.

Mr. Harris (in civics class to a young lady)—What would you do if I should give you a written proposal?

Two little boys became greatly wrought up over a football scrimmage and as a result this conversation was overheard:

First boy—Shut up or I'll knock your can off.

Second boy—Aw, kid, strike me with a match and see how far I light.

Dr. Nimrock in Social Hygiene Class—Miss B, what is the function of your esophagus?

L. B.—I don't exactly know but I think that it carries the blood to my heart.

Guard—Who goes there?
Voice—The chaplain.
Guard—C'mon in Charlie.

A NEW YELL.

Ice cream soda,
Ginger ale pop.
Normal, Normal
Always on top.

Lady—Why are you crying Johnny?
Johnny—We were playing train and I was the engine and Pa came in and switched me.

Lecturer—Never waste time. Whereupon the audience dispersed.

When Rastus Johnson's son arrived, He looked just like his poppy. In fact the doctor done declare He was a carbon copy.

Party System Of Government Developed Over Long Period

APPROPRIATIONS FOR COMPLETION OF NEW DORM WILL BE URGED

The presidents of all the normal schools have been busy for the past week preparing a detailed statement of desired appropriations for the next biennial period, which begins July 1, 1921. The budget is being prepared in detail with an explanation of each of the items and a statement of reasons for various increases. Among the larger items which the Winona school will urge is the completion of Shepard Hall, the purchase and equipment of the athletic field, a balcony for the gymnasium of the training department, a new clock and bell system, and certain other items of mechanical equipment to replace worn out material. Increases in salaries commensurate with increases in costs of living are included.

The Misses Ruth and Lorraine Gludd of Lake City were week-end guests of Vivienne Bahe and Sara Reimstad at Morey Hall.

Mr. Scarborough Turns Backyard Into Cotton Plantation For Test

Cotton has been grown in Winona. Not long ago Minnesota was thought too far north to grow corn. Now, however corn is a prominent crop in this part of the state. Who knows but what this may be true of cotton also?

While studying the geography of North America last winter the subject of cotton was brought up. Mr. Scarborough sent for some cotton seeds and bolls which were carefully examined upon their arrival. The seeds are planted when the weather became warm enough. They developed into sturdy cotton plants and began to blossom the latter part of the summer.

In order that they might mature these blooming plants have now been brought inside. Under good care they will no doubt produce a number of ounces of excellent Minnesota cotton.

Mr. Stalcup Traces Development Through the Centuries—Is Essential to all Majority Governments.

WAS COMPLETED BY 1832

Majority government administered by and through the agency of a political party had its origin and development in England.

The development was not wholly completed until 1832. The contests between the king and the people were many, long, bitter, and sometimes bloody.

There are three fundamental factors in British Parliamentary practice:

(a) The House of Commons controls the governmental machinery.

(b) This control in the House of Commons is held by the party commanding a majority of elected representatives. England has a two-party system. The two parties are the Liberal and Conservative. The party is the agency for the crystallizing of popular sentiment in favor of or against a definite platform or program.

(c) The majority party, through its leadership at call of king organizes the ministry of more than thirty departments. Within this ministry there is organized a smaller working group, called the cabinet. The members of this cabinet are the heads of the more important departments in the ministry. The head of the cabinet is the leader of the majority party in the House of Commons. This cabinet is the responsible and responsive legislative and administrative machinery of the British system, and remains so, as long as it receives the "vote of confidence" in the House of Commons.

The framers of our Constitution were acquainted with the British system of government and tried to create something different. They did this by establishing the Electoral College system or plan of electing our chief executive. The length of this paper does not warrant a discussion of the Electoral College System, but those who want to know what it is to read the Constitution of U. S. Article II, Section 2 along with the twelfth amendment.

Few people to-day know of this elaborate Electoral system and its operation because: (a), it lost its independent character or status after the first presidential election in 1789; (b), it plays a secondary and in most elections an almost insignificant part.

Thus what might have been a different system from the English, failed in the drafting and inception of our Constitution as a new form of government. This failure is due to the divisions among our people over the nature of the new government and the interpretation of the Constitution. One group, the Federalists, wanted a strong central government, and proposed to interpret the Constitution liberally or loosely; the other, the Anti-Federalists opposed a strong central government and wished to interpret the Constitution literally or strictly. This is the early beginning of our two-party system.

(To be continued next week.)

Friday, Sept. 20 was the date of our annual fair and auction. The fair began in the morning. A community dinner was served at noon. The afternoon was spent in judging the articles brought and in a social way. At eight o'clock the auction began with Mr. Smith as auctioneer. All things brought a good price especially the watermelons. Cakes, cookies, canned fruit, jellies, rolls, doughnuts and vegetables were sold. The day closed with a dance. Galesville's orchestra furnished the music. All reported a good time and hoped the fair next year would be as successful. The proceeds were $64. ## ALL AROUND WISCONSIN

Madison — Enjoining dealers in American cheese from refusing to pay cheese factories for quarter and half pounds, the division of markets has issued an order, effective at once, directing every cheese buyer in Wisconsin to pay for not less than the full cheese weight at the time of weighing at the buyer's warehouse. The practice existing for years in Wisconsin, under which approximately $1,000,000 are estimated to have been absorbed annually, was for the cheese buyers at producing centers, such as Plymouth and Marshfield, to pay for only even pounds and to either take the fractions of pounds without payment or make a flat deduction of five eighths pound or seven-eighths pound upon every box.

Manitowoc—Commissioned chaplain in the United States navy, the Rev. Father Roman M.
